

---

Opportunities for the Alaskan Way Viaduct – Envisioning A Better Future

October 15, 2001 6:00 to 9:00 p.m. (Walking tour beginning at 4:30 p.m.)

Bell Harbor, 2211 Alaskan Way, Pier 66, International Promenade

- 4:30 pm      Meet for Guided Walking Tour; Bell Harbor ground floor entrance
- 6:00 pm      Welcome and Introductions; Meeting Objectives – Pat Serie, Facilitator
- 6:05 pm      Fast-Track Process to Project Completion – David Dye, WSDOT Urban Corridors Office Manager
- Framework for project and key milestones
  - Project decision making – when, who, how?
  - The funding situation
  - What can community leaders do to help?
  - Overview of promising conceptual alternatives – focus on bored tunnel, cut-and-cover tunnel, and elevated structure
- 6:30 pm      Grab Your Plate and “Walk About” the Project Progress Displays; Ask Questions of Project Team Members
- 7:00 pm      Moving Toward Conceptual Alternatives
- Urban design context – what are the opportunities to enhance livability? – Boris Dramov, The ROMA Group
  - Seawall – what is its condition and how does it relate to the conceptual alternatives? – Bob Chandler, City of Seattle
  - Transportation context – How do the modeling and engineering fit together? – Robert Spillar, Parsons Brinckerhoff
  - How would the conceptual alternatives work? How do they address values for transportation effectiveness, city connections, environmental protection, livability, constructability? -- Tom Madden, WSDOT and Bob Chandler, City of Seattle
- 8:00 pm      Your Feedback and Reactions – Where Should We Go From Here?
- 8:30 pm      Staying on the Fast Track – Next Project Steps
- Further development of conceptual alternatives
  - Public outreach opportunities
  - Next Leadership Group meeting and focus
- 8:45 pm      Closing Remarks – Secretary Doug MacDonald and Mayor Paul Schell
- 9:00 pm      Adjourn